

Very good. Can you spell that, please?	Our heating is broken. Sebastian, Nina, Nawin and I are going on holiday.	What a catastrophe!	So. What would you like to drink?
The table is not beautiful.	No problem, Lisa. I'll get Emma.	I would like a pizza with tuna.	Goodbye!
Cool. How many rooms does the apartment have?	I'll check it!	Youth hostels are not as expensive as a hotel.	That's right. She's taking a German course and is learning very quickly. And what languages ■■■do you speak, Nico?
A1-25-This is how I live	Marvin wants to see your room .	Spain – that's in the south, right? In the south of Europe.	So... Nico, this is Nawin. Nawin, Nico.

Here are the menus!	No, there is no elevator in the building.	Ten euros plus tip. And you're invited!	I come from Thailand. I speak Thai, Chinese, English, German, French and Italian.
This may be the last pizza I will eat here.	Nico, what would you like to eat?	A1-21-What is that	Goodbye! Take care!
Come on, come on, come on, come on!	No idea. She doesn't have a residence permit yet.	I am Selma. I come from Syria... from Damascus.	Hey! Great to have you here!
So what is it?	Tomorrow is a great day!	Soon, yes. I have a job there.	Hey... Wow, the lamp works again.

A1-19-In Europe	But sometimes she also eats an apple.	This is Yara.	Damascus is ...
Okay, that's not so good. And where are you from?	Yes, that's right! It's your turn.	I'm at university from nine to five. So all day. I'm sorry.	Marvin, hi.
Almost always .	Can Nico stay here for two days?	The pens... the glasses and... And what is this called in German?	What are you looking for?
Team South!	I'll also have a pizza with salami.	But now let's go to your aunt's!	Very good.

This is the Brandenburg Gate. A tourist attraction in Berlin.	Yes, drink, a drink!	And after class we'll go to Yara's, okay?	And which cities do you already know?
Correct. The bag.	The chairs are old and the closet is much too big.	Yes, and it is very quiet. No cars.	English . Well ... a little .
And this is how we find out the address.	I help Nico.	This is a board .	The rent including additional costs is 400 euros per month.
We'll take my address. I live at Wagnergasse 136.	My glasses. And where are the pens and the book?	Everyone? It's not very clean here. How often do you clean?	Sushi, pizza, salad.

Okay. I'll take the room!	We'll get back to you, OK?	Hi, Lisa! Who is that?	Yara is your aunt.
So, I'll have a beer.	Here is the menu of our favorite Italian restaurant.	And Spanish and a little German.	Thanks! Oh, a message on Book!
You are looking for your bag!	Nina loves pineapple, but she is a vegetarian and therefore she always takes the pizza without ham.	Yes. Emma's mother is on the plane and Emma is fine, she is with Lotte.	I'm paying cash. Here are 45 euros. That's right.
Salami, me!	A 1-16 numbers, please!	Good. And as always, I'll have my Hawaiian pizza without ham.	That's great.

Thank you very much!	And in the corner goes my drum kit.	Understood.	Tomatoes, lettuce, broccoli.
This is a bag.	Pretty big. How many square meters is the room?	And you, Nawin? When do you have university tomorrow?	It's okay...
You are a teacher?	A1-15-Two teas, please!	Yes. Yes, exactly.	Come on, let's go dancing!
Yes, she is a refugee.	A1-14-What are you drinking	But where is that? Do you know Yara's bike shop?	And for lunch there are often vegetables.

Okay, just a minute.	I see something you don't see... and it's not there.	Does Yara know you are here? Is she waiting for you?	I'll have a pizza with salami please.
This is Nico.	That's easy! So, Köttbullar...that's what you eat in Sweden! So.	Nico, will you look after Emma tomorrow?	A1-28-Our House
A farewell party.	Yara is Nico's aunt. He said she has a bike shop here. But he doesn't have the address.	Yes, not bad at all! And you, Sebastian?	A1-27-Sofa, armchair and table
Sure. Did everything go well at the airport? Is Emma OK?	And my name is Nina. I also come from Germany and I am 23 years old.	Thanks, Nico! I'll be back home for dinner tomorrow around six.	OK, then you start.

She lives in Germany.	Not so good either. And how old are you?	This is August-Straußberg-Gasse 23. But where is the bike shop?	And this is Jenny's bag.
Welcome to Wagnergasse!	Now I have gifts from Cologne, Hamburg, Düsseldorf, Heidelberg and Berlin.	Yes, with lots of milk but little sugar. Oh wait, I'll do that.	Then we can jam together.
So... I see something you don't see, and it's... big and red.	No. But Nina has been to Berlin before. And Sebastian. You've been to Berlin before, right?	Where are my glasses?	A1-24-The car is red
Yes! They are super loud and not nice!	A coffee for me, please.	The three pizzas with salami are 22.50.	You're not there? I'll look for a hotel.

No. That's very expensive.
A youth hostel is better.

In Spain they eat
gazpacho!

Where are you from?
What languages ■■■do you speak?

This is a pizza

So, cheers then!

Ah yes, the ad
on the Internet.

Yes and what do
I do with Emma?

And there's a party?

Oh, sorry!

Do you know Berlin?

The bag, a bag.

The dictionary helps.

So, this is the apartment.

We have a problem.

Nice. And who is Yara?

See you soon! Bye!

A1-20-Other countries	The bag!	Have you ever been to Sweden?	Yes, but everyone just says wolf.
No problem.	Lunch is at twelve.	The book! Thanks, Nico!	Nawin? You're going to France.
Welcome!	Yes, she is pretty.	Excuse me, can you repeat that?	Thank you! Okay, so: half past three. And your name is Marvin Graupner? Okay. All right. See you then. Bye!
A1-26-My Apartment	No, I don't have a pen.	Well, that depends. If it's dirty, we clean it.	A1-17-I have already been to Berlin

Nico! Come and play with us!	With milk and sugar?	International, right? Marc comes from France, Sascha from Russia and Selma from Syria.	Are you hungry?
A youth hostel or a hostel .	I am 22 years old. And you? Are you from Germany?	Great, Rana.	Yes, I speak Spanish, a little English and a little German. What languages ■■■do you speak?
Ah! I see something you don't see, and it's... big and yellow.	Where does Yara live? Do you have an address? Does Yara know you are here?	He's coming today.	The windows are large and the room is bright.
Here! This is south, this is north, this is east and this is west.	Great! And Nico, what do people eat in Spain?	Ah! Hello, Lisa! Good day, my name is Jürgen Brunner. Are you Nico?	A problem?

Thanks, Dad.	Where is Nawin? Isn't he here?	And who is Yara?	We were good!
Specialties from different countries. You have to match the flags.	We've both been to Berlin before, yes. We even went to the Brandenburg Gate.	The address is wrong. There really isn't a bike shop here. I'm sorry, Nico... Come on!	Does she live here in the city?
The lamp is broken.	Oh. No, that's mine. I was looking for it. Thanks, Ulla!	Great, Nico! Thanks! Would you like something to drink?	Here, give it here. There. So, in Japan they eat sushi and in Italy they eat pizza!
There are five rooms, a kitchen and a bathroom. Yes, come with me.	No, but I'm going to Norway next year!	We also offer coffee and tea ...	Do you have a pen?

We win!	Maybe they have a room available.	So...who gets the Hawaii without ham?	I work tomorrow from eight to twelve. And after lunch I have volleyball practice and the practice is from two to four.
How much does the pizza cost?	Was the party good?	No, we don't have a garage, but come by first.	I am 25 years old. And yes, I come from Germany.
So we are looking for a tenant for Nawin's room.	What is Nina doing tomorrow?	Hi Papa!	What about you, Nico? Are you thirsty too? What would you like to drink?
With pleasure. We'll talk on the phone! Have fun at the party tonight.	I don't know. But I'll find out.	Will you take me with you?	Hello, your order. Do you pay together or separately?

A1-18-Where is the	What is that?	At nine. That's not possible.	Okay, thanks.
There is no solution. I'll call Manja. We'll cancel the lesson.	Nico is here.	Is this my bathroom?	A pen...Where is my pen?
You're Wolfgang, right?	The key !	Your passport number ! Passport number.	Hello, this is Lisa Brunner.
Hi, I'm Nico. I come from Spain... from Seville.	And what are the neighbors like? They're not too loud, are they?	Outside with Nina.	Nico? Are you the Nico from the radio?

Then we have a tuna pizza, a Hawaiian pizza without ham, 18 euros.	Yes, the apartment has a terrace.	The door. Right!	Yes. And Seville is in the south of Spain. And you?
How much does the room cost?	Nawin leaves.	The car is red, but it is not big, it is small.	Hunger? Hungry?
Have you never been to Germany? Or Austria or Switzerland?	Great! There are other interested parties. But we'll call you.	We have ... apple juice, water, beer, wine, cola and lemonade.	In France people like to eat cheese.
Yes. I'm looking for a new shared apartment.	So, this is the kitchen. The kitchen is very cozy. We often sit here.	So... and I order. Where is my cell phone?	My passport is gone.

I've been to Hamburg and Cologne before. I've never been to Heidelberg. Next week I'm going to Munich!	Hawaiian pizza?	Yes, my aunt.	Very good! The party was great!
A1-23-I don't have...	Okay. No problem.	This is the living room .	Lisa gives German courses at a language school. Lisa is a teacher. She teaches German.
Yeah, cool. Well then! Bye!	A1-22-Who owns this	Nina has a doctor's appointment tomorrow at eight o'clock.	Ah. A piece of paper, I need a piece of paper.
Win. Okay, everyone: win!	Yara. August-Straußberg-Gasse 23.	What is there?	Really? Thank you, you really are the best!

No problem!	Nico doesn't speak German very well yet.	Selma – is she ... a refugee?	Yes, vegetables ...
I don't believe ...	Many young people stay there.	Friends! Come here quickly! The photo of your Aunt Yara. There is an answer and an address.	Okay. Bye!
Hello, I'm Nico.	Damascus is also in the south. In the south of Syria. Come now! We will win!	Can Selma stay in Germany?	And you don't watch TV. And after playing, you clean up. I don't want a mess here!
When does the course start?	You want to see the room?	We'll put the sofa against the wall.	What is it?

Nice. This is the living room, huh?	Well, I like Germany.	This is my room. Maybe soon your room?	Hi, girls.
There is no bike shop here.	I speak German, English and Italian, but very poorly.	Where is Emma?	She looks for the glasses, the pens and the book.
Hello! I'm Nico.	I come from Spain. I live in Seville.	Yes, but we are right.	We spoke on the phone. I'm Lisa Brunner.
A1-29-Emma's Day	And Nico, would you like a pizza with tuna, one with salami or one with tomato mozzarella?	What is your date of birth? I mean, when is your birthday? Birthday?	Yes. My name is Nicolás Gonzalez.

Okay... For breakfast, Emma usually eats cereal with milk.

Salami! And another salami.

I always brush my teeth!

One moment please.

So, friends, I have an idea!

Yes, Nico was on the radio.

I have a problem: my bag is gone and my phone and my passport are gone too. And Yara's address is gone too.

Always or sometimes?

Hi Nawin, nice to see you! Thanks for the invitation!

And there in the corner... rugs, we need lots of rugs, lamps and cushions – for chilling.

Thank you very much!

This is a bye-bye party?

She speaks German very well!

No, we only have one bathroom. Everyone showers here.

All right. I'll have lemonade then.

And after that she is at school from ten to three.

Beer, thanks.	The language school... Oh no!	I don't think we'll ever find a tenant for Nawin's room!	Cool, thank you!
Mr. González, it's a pleasure to meet you. Please sit down. How can I help you?	Here, a piece of paper.	We'll then. We'll call you.	Hello, Nico. I'm Sebastian. What are you doing here?
Emma is already waiting!	I think it's ten square meters, right?	When do you work tomorrow?	Enjoy your meal now!
The room will be available soon.	Yes, but we have a small problem.	Yes, there's a problem. You can only stay in the shared apartment for two more days. Then you have to move. Do you understand?	Wow, what is that?

His aunt doesn't know why he's here?	His aunt!	Everything OK? No comment? Come on! Let's play a game.	Guys, the menu. What do you want?
Mom? Yes, I'm coming. Sorry.	A1-13-What are you doing here	Now everyone write post-its!	This is also a bag.
Yes, perhaps.	And from four to half past four she practices the flute.	Okay, let's get started!	Yes, we are still looking.
I would like a pizza please.	And I ask my friends and acquaintances.	Is this yours too?	I see something you don't see, and that is... big and small.

Coke please.	This was a candidate for Nawin's room.	So. There are four teams: Team East, Team South, Team West and Team North. Yes?	That? That is a sight in Cologne: the Cologne Cathedral. Have you ever been to Cologne? Do you know the city?
We ... we post the photo of Yara on Book and ask: Who knows this bike shop?	Oh, that's not good.	The room is eleven square meters.	Emma gets up at half past six. Then she brushes her teeth. This is important, Emma, ■■■okay?
Ah, hi! I'm Nawin. Nice to meet you.	The board. Nouns and articles always belong together: the chair, the board, the book. Do you know any other nouns with articles?	Yes, Nawin is going to France.	Thank you! Here is the bill. Bye.
My colleague Manja is sick. I'm doing Manja's class tomorrow.	Hey, Nawin. Would you like something to eat?	I have to go to class!	That makes a total of 40.50 euros.

				Why is he here in Germany?
				From two to three o'clock, Emma usually does homework.
				Do you pay in cash or by card?
				Together. How much does it cost?
